FOREWORD

Just as experiences in life have different meanings for different persons, Columbia High does not mean the same to each of her students. Many students will remember most vividly the football, basketball, and baseball games, and the track meets. Certain teachers will stand out in the minds of CHS students for their sincere concern and warm friendship. Still others will remember all of the activities at Columbia High . . . its clubs, Student Council, the Band, the Chorus, and the annual and newspaper staffs. Of course everyone will remember the honors at CHS . . . National Honor Society, 60-point Awards, Old English C's, and the Bill Goudelock Scholarship.

Through these phases of Columbia High, students achieve the main purpose of school . . . they learn. They not only learn facts from books, they learn the importance of accepting responsibility, they learn the spirit of cooperation and participation, and they acquire a greater and deeper sense of maturity.

In the following pages the annual staff has endeavored to record these activities of Columbia High School. Even more important, however, they have tried to capture on these pages the feelings of love and devotion of all Columbia High's students for a wonderful Alma Mater.

Opened Another Memorable Year For Faculty and Student Body Of CHS

With the coming of September came the opening of school. Orientation Day was held so that all new students might become acquainted with the school and their homeroom teachers. When school opened, confusion and fear filled the air as the freshmen ventured into a new world of independence. "Freshman Week," sponsored by Executive Council, taught the lowly freshmen to heed the requests of their superiors. The names of disobedient rats were put in a complaint box in front of the auditorium. "Rat Court" brought an end to "Freshman Week," and a judge and jury took proper care of all disrespectful frosh.

As Seniors elected officers, plans came into being for future events.

September also brought football, and Columbia was not to be outdone by any team. Our boys surprised the excited spectators as they led our team to the biggest upset of the season. For the first time in the history of Columbia High School, we defeated Richmond Academy.

The judge sentences a freshman at Rat Court.

These chemistry students have new experiences in lab.

The Honor Society elected new members and held an installation service.

Brought With It Homecoming, Pep Rallies, and the Election Of Class Officers

Mr. Able and electronics students are preparing for the assembly held in October.

Before we knew it, we were in the middle of football season. Time and time again, cheerleaders enthusiastically helped the student body gain pre-game spirit. The air buzzed with the excitement of homecoming week and the big homecoming game, for which we picked a Maid of Honor. Senior players frantically chose their sponsors for the game and submitted the names.

Football was not the only excitement in October. During an assembly program, one of our outstanding juniors was awarded a citation from Ingenue and Care for her work during the summer on the Care Fund.

Not to be outdone, the Electronics department, the only one in the Columbia City Schools, put on an excellent and interesting assembly program.

Reports went out just before the Fair Week holiday. On the following Monday, parents visited the school and learned of our achievements and failures.

Saw Annual Subscriptions Go Over 1000 Mark After Campaign Sponsored By Staff

The annual staff sponsored an assembly to begin the year's campaign.

For the first time, Columbia High conducted its annual subscription drive in November. To encourage subscriptions, the annual staff offered free tickets to the beauty contest to each member of any homeroom that subscribed 100 per cent. This scheme was so successful that the goal of 1,000 annuals was surpassed. Then we turned our attention to the beauty contest which took place late in the month. The crowning of "Miss Columbian" and of the class beauties was an unforgettable event.

Following tradition, Columbia High played football against Dreher at Memorial Stadium on Thanksgiving Day. School spirit was at its height. Key Club members served "spirit water" on the front steps during the week, all students participated in stationing and later in burning the Blue Devil. "graves" were provided for poor old Dreher players, and the Best Dreher dance followed the pre-game parade on Thanksgiving Eve.

Forgeting ourselves for a while, we generously provided tickets to games to be shared with the less fortunate and thereby make Thanksgiving a day of happiness for many.

Brought Christmas and Yule Projects To Benefit Needy

December brought the thrills and festivities of Christmas. Thanksgiving was predominant as each homeroom raised money to buy gifts for an underprivileged child. This year it was by making the five picks, and made to fit all four tall spinkies were under the tree. In the homeroom contests, Executive Court and Mr. Kirk filled the teachers' boxes with refreshments.

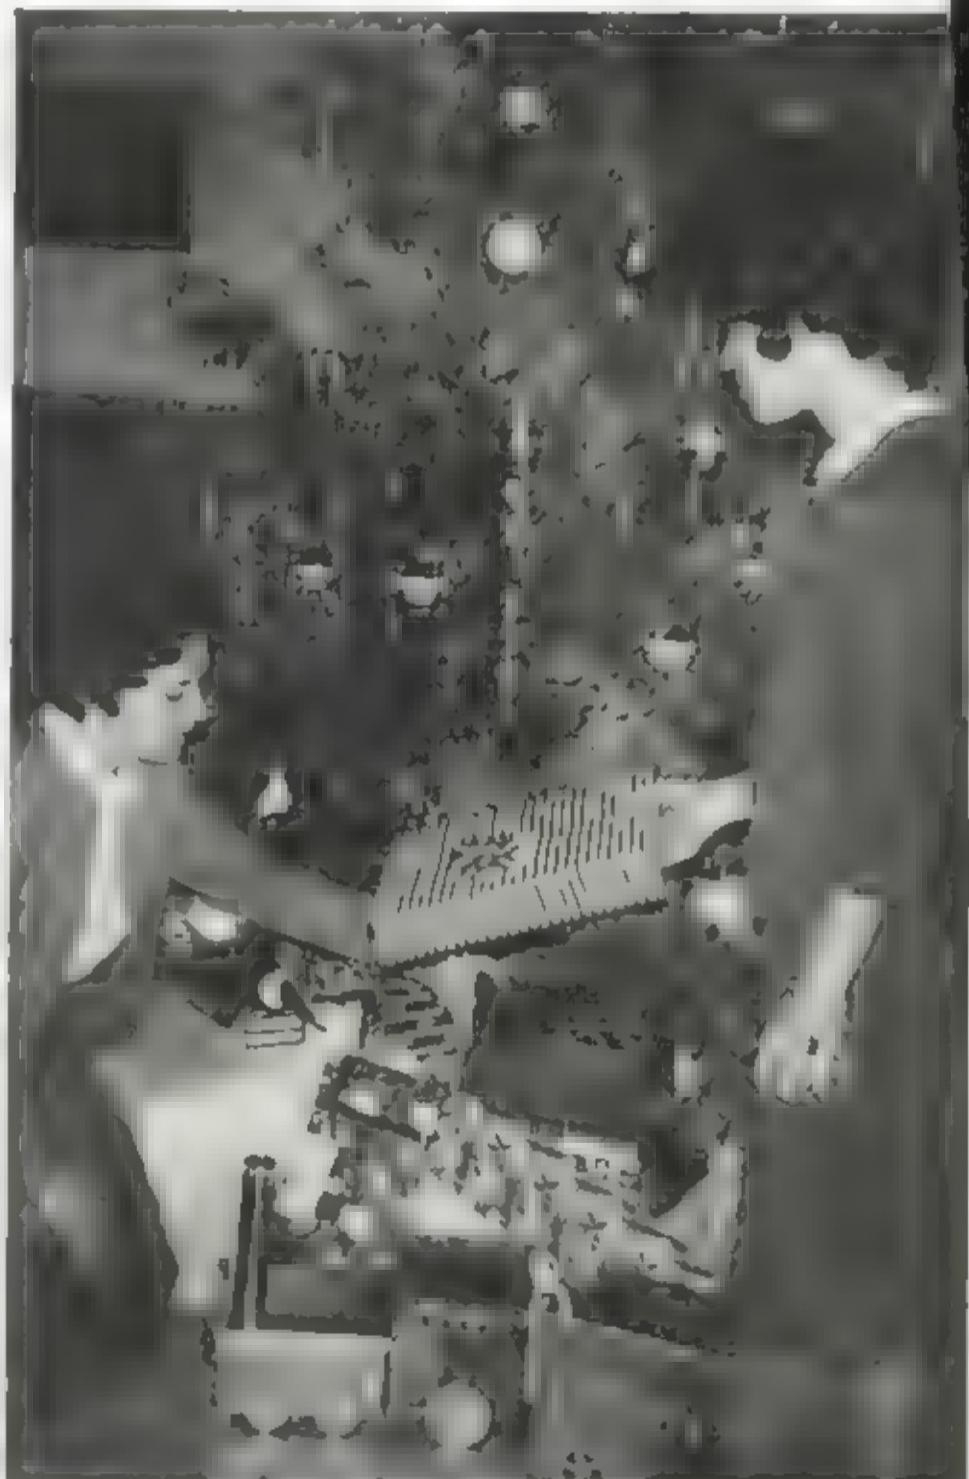

Executive Court sponsored a roving reporter competition for the State Hospital Home for the Aged, a center for the few who school was forgotten.

Executive Court's efforts have resulted in an excellent record.

Christmas Carolers "warm up" before going to their rest homes.

The Christmas tree will be packed for the privileged children at the hospital.

Brought About Key Club and Publications Staff's Thrilling Westside Story Production

With the start of a new year came the start of a new student administration. A new President, new councilors, and a whole other group of officers attended the inspiring installation ceremony.

Westside Story, presented by the Key Club and the Publications Business Staff, was an unusual treat. All who participated deserve sincere commendations.

During the week after the performance, the students worked hard and began making adjustments in their studies. Exams, closely followed by report cards, brought the month to a close. Again students resolved to do better work during the new semester.

The rumbles in "Westside Story" were unbelievably realistic.

THE CHS canteen, begun this year by Executive Council, did its job well, serving students a varied menu.

February at CHS was a very busy month. The band presented the winter Pops Concert, the National Honor Society held its semi-annual installation services, and the seniors held their banquet. Following the banquet, Seniors and their guests danced to the music of the Travelers.

At a special assembly, Executive Council honored retired Fire Chief A. Mc. Marsh, who was made an honorary graduate of Columbia High.

The Anchor Club initiated Twirl Week, during which all girls were expected to act like gentlemen. One Friday Twirl Court was held and all ungentlemanly girls were brought before a jury, convicted, and properly punished. Executive Council sponsored a Twirl dance to raise money for the Bill Goudelock Scholarship Fund.

With the end of February came the end of basketball season. Now we looked forward to track and baseball seasons and hoped that our teams would be as successful as they had been in basketball.

Brought Warm Weather, Science Projects And Key Club's Teacher Appreciation Week

With March came spring and, of course, spring fever. It was hard to realize there were only two more months of school.

Nearly every afternoon in March students could be found at Memorial Stadium at track meets.

Unfortunately for science students, projects were due in March. When they were set up in the library, all the hard work and mental anguish seemed a little more worth while.

Also during March the Key Club sponsored Teacher Appreciation Week. CHS teachers were recognized for all they do for their students and the school.

Science students display their projects at the annual Science Fair.

Brings Emphasis On Student Talent And Spirituality

One of the highlights of April was the Dramatics Club's production of "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis." The cast spent many long hours rehearsing for the presentation, and they certainly deserve credit for a job well done.

The chorus classes presented a musical entitled "Down in the Valley" this month. Also, in the way of unusual entertainment the Senior Class held a Male Beauty Contest. Miss CARMELIANA and Miss "SWEETHEART" were chosen from the representatives of the musical repertoire of the student body.

Another highlight of April was Religious Emphasis Week. This year's theme was "It Ye Have Seen." All week speakers discussed different aspects of it. It was truly an inspiring experience in the midst of the Easter season.

The Chorus students sang "Down in the Valley."

Brought Eagerly Awaited Annual Events Such As Junior-Senior And Graduation

Warm weather finally showed itself in May. With the knowledge that summer was only a few weeks, CHS students had a harder time than ever paying attention in class.

In May the highlight of the year for many was held—the Junior-Senior Picnic which was held at the Wade Hampton Hotel with music furnished by the Jungaleers.

In May all students participated in Barefoot Day by wearing bermuda shorts and, of course, going barefoot.

Finally, in May these long awaited weeks, the annuals, were distributed. On the day the annuals were given out the Honor Society sponsored its Annual Swing Party where students could seventh period sign in. It was a time to believe that another year was coming to a close.

On Barefoot Day students donned bermudas—outdoors at home.

Brought Senior Trip, Summer Vacation And Closed Another Glorious Year At CHS

Students receive their report cards for the last time this year

When June finally arrived, students were both happy and sad. Most of the underclassmen were ecstatic, they would be back next year. But the seniors mixed happiness with melancholy. This was the last time they would walk these halls as students. These years at CHS had truly been wonderful.

By this time many seniors already had their suitcases packed for the Senior Trip. This year, they went to New York and Washington. While these students were preparing to leave for Washington and New York, several other seniors were making plans to attend Palmetto Girls' and Boys' State.

For the underclassmen there will be more wonderful years at Columbia High. As the seniors leave, they will go with the knowledge that they have received the best education from the most dedicated faculty anywhere.

Yes, June brought the close of another glorious year at Columbia High.

ADMINISTRATION

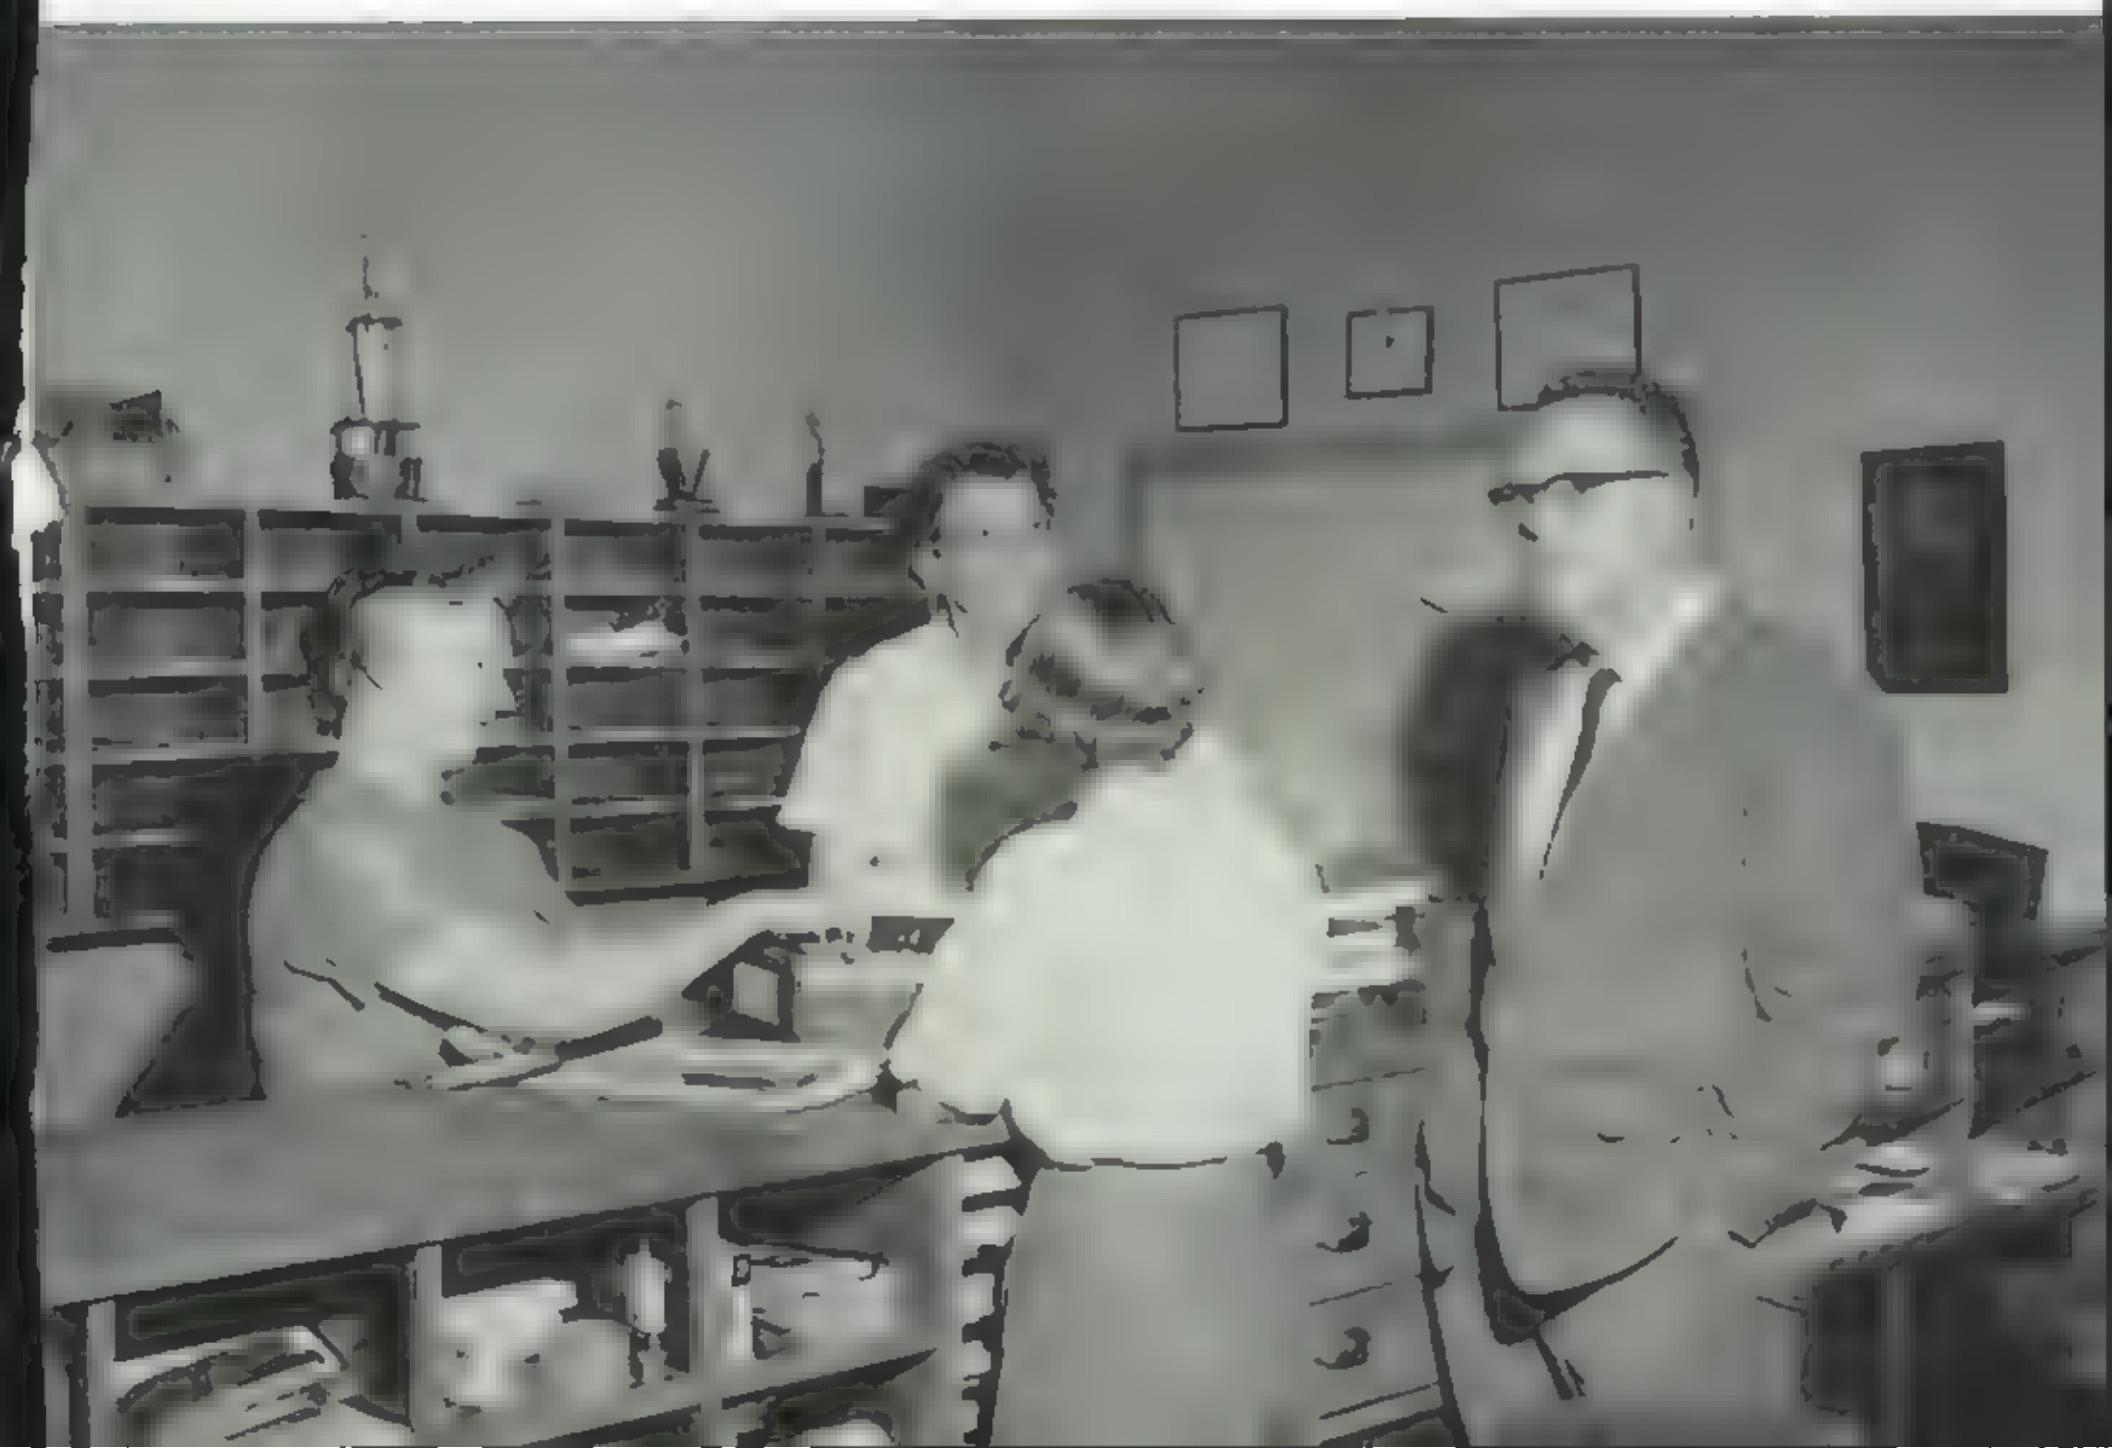

Our school, Columbia High, possesses many wonderful traits within its walls. One of its most valuable possessions, however, is the administration. This devoted faculty has worked not only to teach and serve their students, but they have made scholars and leaders of the students here.

Not only do these teachers advise and help, but they are always near to praise and to be a friend to each and every student.

These teachers give of their time by staying after school to help my students learn.

Columbia High is also extremely proud of its principal and assistant principals who have proved over and over their deep interest and love for Columbia High's students, education, appearance, and high standards.

MR. GUY VARN

Mr. Guy Varn, Superintendent of the Columbia City Schools, has done much for the students of Columbia.

Mr. Varn has held his position since 1951 and has advanced the school program to a great degree.

Mr. Varn has done a superior job in his official role as well as in his personal dealings with his fellow man. He praises and commends the students who have done outstanding work in some school activity.

He gives of his time unselfishly. This year at a special assembly honoring Chief Marsh, Mr. Varn added his commendation.

All students should honor our superintendent for his active interest and concern for the students of the Columbia City Schools.

Superintendent and School Board Work Together

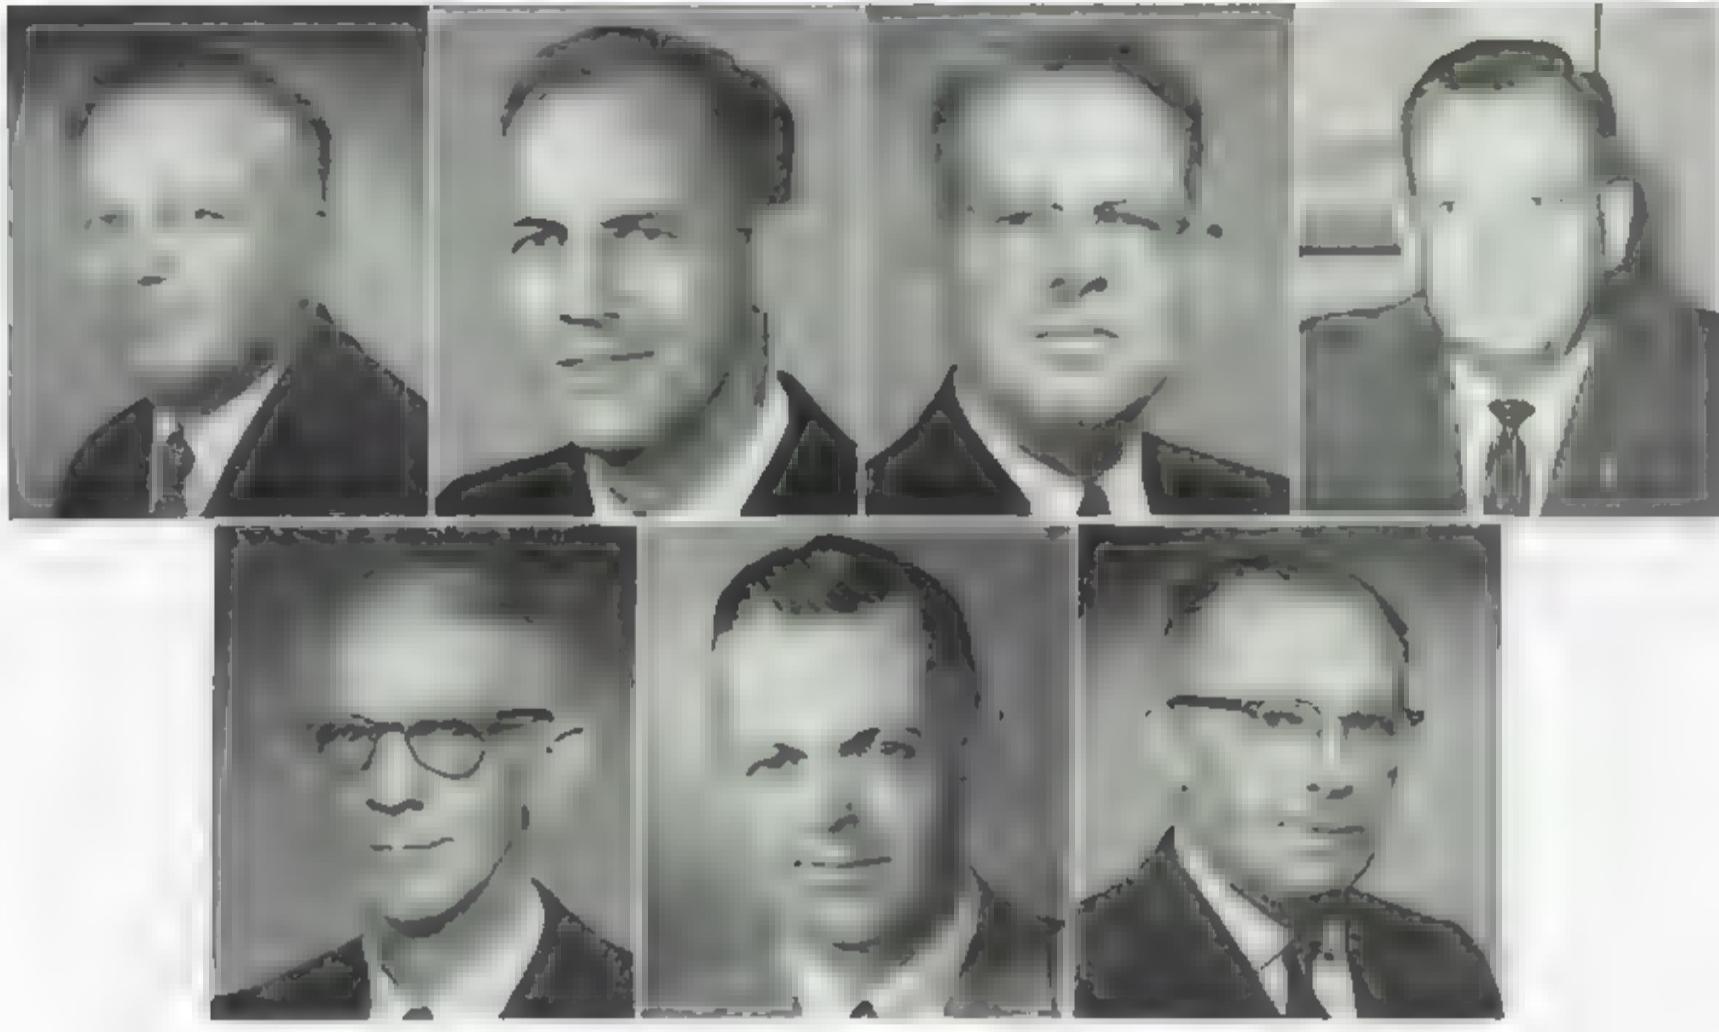

MR. LEWIS ROGER KIRK, JR.

Upon entering the halls of Columbia High School, one is likely to find Mr. Lewis Roger Kirk, Jr., our principal, at once. Anyone who meets him recognizes his outstanding ability to guide and direct this school.

After serving as assistant principal at Crayton, Hand Junior High School, and Columbia High, Mr. Kirk became principal in 1958. During his five years of service he has advanced steadily in versatility and popularity.

Mr. Kirk's eternal faith in the faculty and the students has proved that he is a man of superior leadership.

To know Mr. L. R. Kirk is to respect, to admire, and to love him.

CLASSES

As another school year draws to a close, the student looks back at his past year at Columbia High School. The courses he has studied, the activities in which he has participated, and the times he has been proud of his school have played an important part in each life.

Here stands the senior! It has been a long time since the senior was a frightened freshman, stepping timidly into the new world of high school life. As he looks away, he glances back at the most important influence thus far on his life: Columbia High School. Here he has prepared to follow a career or to enter college.

After three years, the junior is now ready and confident up to his senior year, thinking all the while of the opportunities ahead. This past year the junior has experienced many new activities. For the first time he was elated with the thrill of attending the Junior Seniors.

The sophomore, still older and a little wiser, is now ready to accept the responsibilities of an upperclassman. The second year has been much easier than the first. The sophomore has learned of the extra-curricular activities and participated enthusiastically.

The year's freshman, stepping for the first time into the activities of high school life, was slightly frightened by the greatness of Columbia High. As the year draws to a close, the freshman recalls such pleasant memories as Freshman Week, Honor Society Installation, pep rallies, and football games. He realizes now the wonderful experiences facing him in his future years at Columbia High School.

JOE CLEVELAND
President

Officers Prove To Be

The nine Senior Class officers are divided into two groups. Major class officers—president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer—have the greater responsibility to the Senior Class. They are the ones who plan and present all events of the Senior year.

The minor class officers—poet, testator, prophet, historian, and class speaker—also have great responsibilities. They are elected by the Senior Class on the basis of ability to perform one particular task. The poet reads his poem on Class Day; the prophet and the testator produce the fruits of their labor in booklet form, also on Class Day; the historian writes the class history which appears in the annual. Most important of all, the class speaker makes a final tribute to his class on graduation night.

These class officers could accomplish very little without the help of the Senior Class Sponsor, Mrs. Patty Richardson, and the Senior Guidance Teacher, Mrs. Christine Blonaisz. Through their untiring work, these two teachers have won the love and respect of the entire Senior Class.

JUNIOR CLASS

Long years of trudging onward toward that hallowed goal, graduation, seem only too brief now as we, the class of '64, are preparing for our Senior year. From the first sound of the school bell in September 'til the final echo of the Alma Mater in June, this year of novel experience is filled with crystal moments that will echo throughout the coming years.

The gold class rings, the Junior Senior dance, and the waiting for our Senior trip signify the rank of Columbia High's Junior class.

The Junior class is a busy class. The members look closely at the fast approaching time when they will be Seniors and participate in exclusively Senior activities.

Our class activities will not end now, but they will become more and more intensive as the Junior year ends and the Senior year approaches.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore—the name itself has a special meaning to each of us. This was the year that we truly became a part of Columbia High and a part of her spirit.

This was the year of class projects, the first time our classmates held important positions. We started by electing to the presidency. For the first time, we realized what the responsibility to help our class become real Columbia High students really meant. Determined to equal or better last year's efforts, we, too, waded our talent in sock hops, and successful Christmas projects. Proving that we had beauty as well as ability, one of our classmates was crowned Miss COLUMBIAN.

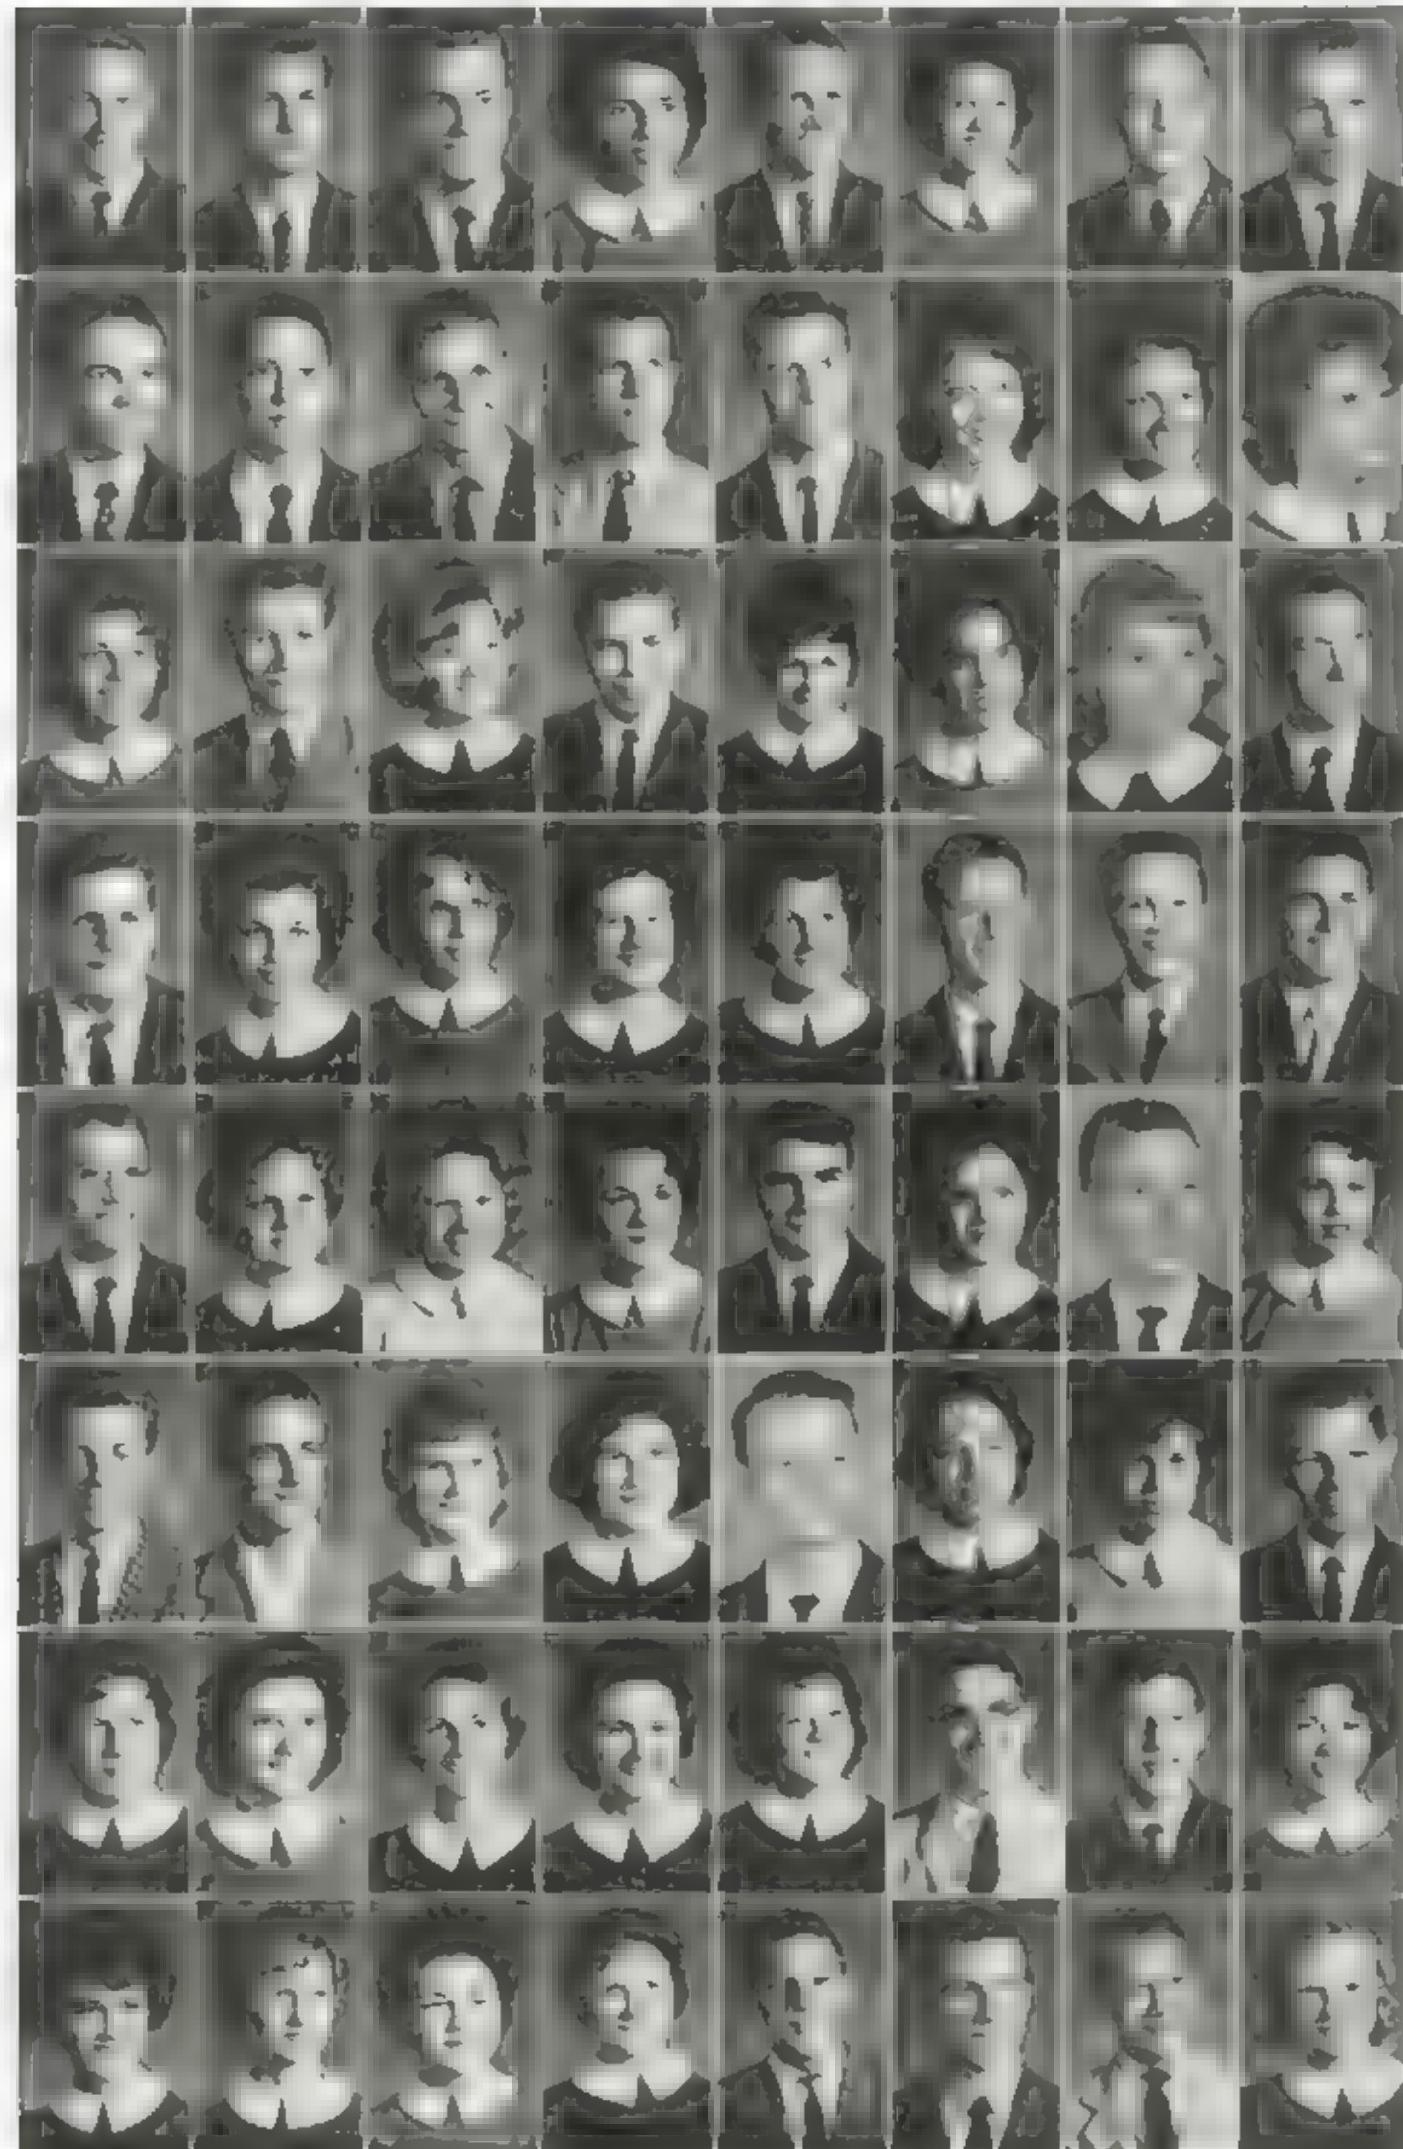

As we step into the rank of Jolly Juniors, we realize that our sophomore year will always have a special place in our hearts, for there will never be another like it.

FRESHMAN CLASS

From the moment we arrived at Columbia High, we sensed the feeling of friendliness that we had heard so much about. The teachers were there to greet us with smiles and to help us get settled. Things began to happen rapidly; and as we dashed from class to class, we became more and more a part of Columbia High, and she a part of us.

During our first week we learned what Columbia High's past and future and were prouder still to be a part of her present. Through activities and through the up-to-the-minute, well-coordinated sports tried at Rat Court, our strong class spirit began to develop.

We entered every activity with the same spirit that led us to victory in the basketball tournament.

We learned what it meant really to study as we got into the swing of high school life. We emerged from exams with a spirit of confidence and looked forward with anticipation to becoming sophomores.

The next few pages of the COLUMBIAN are dedicated to the many students of Columbi High who are classified as Who's Who. To be in the Who's Who Section, a person must exhibit fine qualities such as leadership, citizenship, character, loyalty, and, most of all, service. He must be outstanding in the extra-curricular activities.

This section, Who's Who, first appeared in the 1960 COLUMBIAN. It's becoming a true tradition of the school because it is so well liked by the faculty and the student body.

Included in this section are Executive Council, Representative Council, Key Club, Anchor Club, Marshals, the Merrit Scholarship finalist, Inter School Council, and Boys' and Girls' State representatives.

Participants in such activities are truly the Who's Who at Columbi High.

Council Sponsors College Day For Upperclassmen

Executive Council, the highest student government body at Columbia High, strives to maintain the excellent precedent of leadership set by previous Councils. Its chief and most important responsibility lies in seeing that all reasonable requests of the students are granted or placed before the administration for consideration.

Each semester the Council members, including two freshmen, four sophomores, six juniors, eight seniors, and four ex-officio members, are elected by the popular vote of the student body. The President of the Student Body, also elected at this time, serves as President of Executive Council.

During the year, Council, with its various committees and extra-curricular activities other than sports, sponsors many various worthwhile projects. Executive Council is responsible for the orientation of new students during Freshman Week.

Some other projects and activities sponsored are College Day, for the benefit of academic juniors and seniors; Christmas caroling, which is enjoyed by both young and old; and the sale of school pictures. A new project this year is the Canteen, a most beneficial and profitable undertaking.

Executive Council serves as a laboratory of citizenship, promotes and directs school activities, and helps to establish better relations among the students, faculty, and the community.

Four Cardinal Principles Govern NHS Members

Election to the National Honor Society - one of the highest honors a student may attain while at Columbia High School.

To be elected to the Honor Society, a student must have exhibited individual traits of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Since they serve as an example of Columbia High students, members have the responsibility of upholding those qualities.

This year the Society members have raised money for worthy causes, attended various school events, helped edit the Freshman handbook, and again sponsored the annual dormitory Christmas parties and the COLUMBIAN signing party.

The Society is pledged to uphold and encourage high standards of thought and conduct among the students at all times.

60-Point Award Signifies Outstanding Service

Among the high honors at Columbia High School, one of the most coveted is the 60-Point Award. Those receiving this award have given up a lot of their time, efforts, and talent.

Honor points for leadership and extra-curricular points for service are given in the various activities at Columbia. When a student has a total of 60 points from all extracurricular activities he receives the award. The pupils receiving the award are recognized in an awards assembly where they receive pins. The greatest reward to the student is the knowledge that he has given a helping hand to someone along the way.

The Representative Council Adopts Foreign Child

Representative Council, which consists of the presidents of each dormitory, is the governing body of the school and connects the students only with the Executive Council. All problems and suggestions of the students are discussed at the meetings.

Representative Council coordinates the registration for school elections, nominates cheerleaders, and selects the Columbia High members of the Youth Council.

Projects Characterize Newly Formed Anchor Club

The Columbia High School Anchor Club is a service organization sponsored by the Columbia chapter of Pilot Club International. The major aims of the club are to develop initiative and leadership in the girls, to provide experience in living and working together, to serve the school and community, and to prepare for useful citizenship.

Of the twenty-seven members, there are eleven seniors, ten juniors, and six sophomores. These girls are in good standing scholastically, possess qualities of leadership and good character, and have been approved by the principal.

Now in its second year, the Anchor Club has proved its worth in serving the school and the community. The members have completed several successful projects, some of which were babysitting for teachers during special school functions, assisting in the distribution of car safety stickers for the South Carolina National Bank, ushering at various school events, and helping a needy family at Christmas.

High School Seniors Set Up Model Democracy

Each year boys and girls represent all the high schools in the state come together to learn more about their American way of life. Although Boys' and Girls' State are observed separately, their principles are the same. This project is carried out through the American Legion.

These leading high school seniors set up and run a model democracy. The students are divided into parties, states, counties, and cities. Through a series of rallies and elections, officers are elected to hold positions in their little democracy. The top event of the week is the presidential election. Each student comes away with renewed patriotism and pride in America.

Marshals Enforce Laws And Help In Emergencies

About six years ago a service organization, the Marshals, was introduced into Columbia High. It was started when the teachers found the need for special supervision at extra assemblies, night performances, and in civil emergencies. The students who serve as Marshals are picked from the junior and senior classes for their physical courage and because they are outstanding in their classes. We salute the Marshals in the service they do for Columbia High.

Religious Council Represents Faiths

The Religious Council, working under Executive Council, has its own programs and is in charge of the speakers' bureau. Religious Emphasis Week will be sponsored by the school and the Religious Council will assist students in observing it as far as possible.

Jackie Irby Wins The '62 Goudelock Scholarship

The 1962 winner of the Bill Goudelock Scholarship was Jackie Irby. This award is the highest tribute that may be paid to a Columbia High senior.

The scholarship was established by the Executive Council in February, 1951, to honor those who served our country in military service. It was named in honor of Bill Goudelock, Lt., U.S. M.C.R., who was the first Columbia High graduate killed in action in the Korean conflict.

The winners of this scholarship should exhibit traits which Bill, a former student body president, personified . . . unselfish service and self-sacrifice, the highest moral standards, a keen devotion to duty and responsibility, a winning personality, and initiative.

Jackie typifies each one of these qualities and truly deserves this honor. While at Columbia High Jackie served on Executive Council, was a member of the National Honor Society, served as the Secretary and the Treasurer of the student body, and received her 60 point award.

A C T I V I T I E S

The students of Columbia High, like people in any community, have a wide range of interests. With the help of the faculty, students have formed many clubs which touch on the fields of music, singing, drama, chess, press, checkers, sports, international relations, careers, and service. Though students learn much about the activities through the clubs, the most important element is that the students can talk and work well with each other.

Organized groups are responsible for assembly programs which show their purpose. Members are responsible for programs at the regular meetings. The club programs under the supervision of Executive Council with Miss Sarah Goddard's aid, do a great deal of extra-curricular activities.

Building Helpers Keep School In Fine Order

The maids and janitors of Columbia High perform the time-consuming job of keeping the corridors and rooms sparkling clean. They are among the first to arrive in the mornings and the last to leave in the afternoons.

The cooks have the tremendous job of preparing meals for the large number of students who eat in the cafeteria. They are also responsible for keeping the kitchen clean.

We are proud of the efficient job our building helpers perform.

STUDENT LIFE

The building in which we study is not the basis on which a school is built. The students build and make a school what it is. We are proud to be part of Columbia High School and to keep building to the standards it has built for us.

The students' joys and sorrows, work and play, give meaning to the halls and classrooms of Columbia High School. The things we do and say each day will bring back lasting memories in the years to come.

These snapshots catch and hold the little incidents that may seem unimportant to the outsider, yet have special meaning for the students. These show a student's love of fun, his pride in his school, and his willingness to work to make it the best.

Every action and experience, whether it be trivial or important, leads the students to a greater readiness for their lives ahead.

Through these pictures we can remember our "good ole high school days." Remember each day, for it never returns.

Physical exercise is necessary for a well rounded high school career. Columbia High School looks after the needs of its students in this capacity by offering various sports as extra-curricular activities. The sports offered at Columbia High are football, basketball, baseball, track, golf, and girls' after school sports. Football is left to the more rugged individual. Basketball, baseball, track, and golf depend not so much on brawn as on skill. The girls also have their chance at basketball, softball, and track. For those individuals not quite so athletic there are positions such as manager. The coaches and gym teachers have worked to teach the students sportsmanship and to uphold the status of the athletic program. Students are rewarded for their efforts in sports with Block "C."

The cheerleaders and the Homecoming exercises represent an indirect association with sports.

Capitals Down Richmond In Season's Opener

This year the "Caps" did not have a very impressive record, winning only four games.

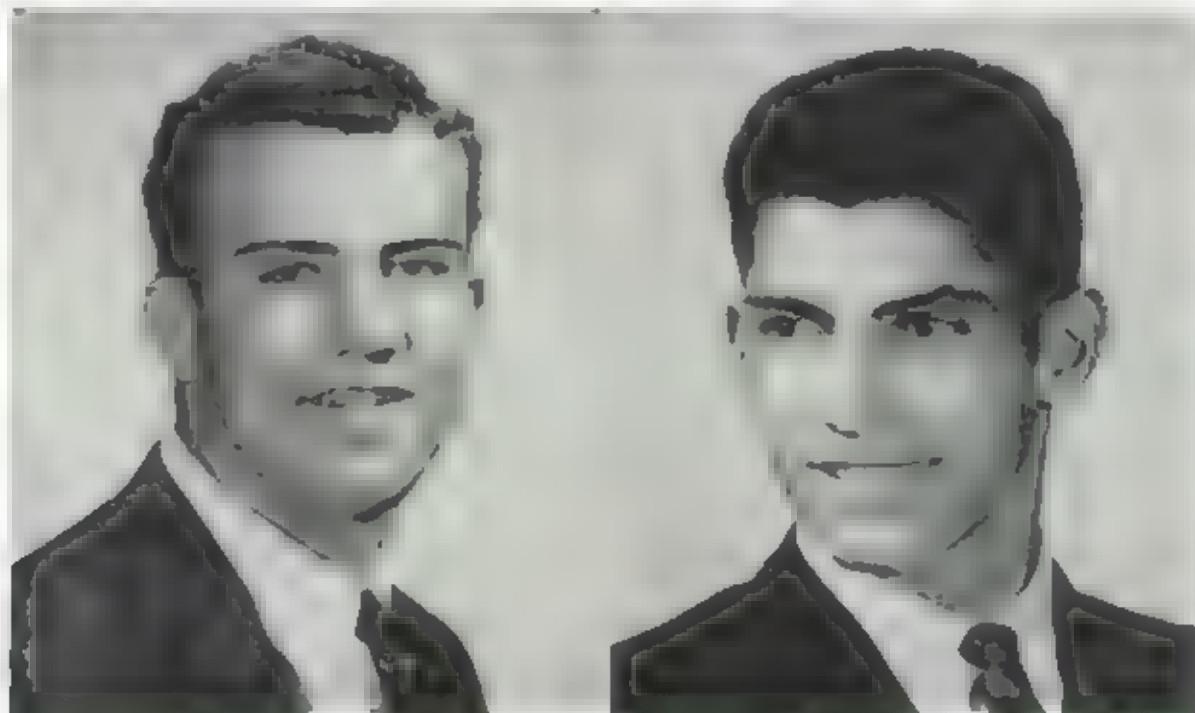

In their first game, the Capitals went to Augusta and beat Richmond Academy. This victory was very significant because the "Musketees," had not lost at home in 28 consecutive games. The next week found the Capitals at home where they beat the BC "Buckets." The next week the "Caps" suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Greenville "Indians". The score was 12 to 7. In October, the "Hurricanes" handed the Capitals a crashing defeat, but we were victorious over Anderson, 13 to 0. The Capitals lost to Florence before beating Gaffney in the last home game before the Thanksgiving game. The Capitals lost to Bluffton Drane to close out the 1962 season.

Another significant fact of this year's season was that the Capitals went to a football camp in Lenoir Caswell, North Carolina. For one week the "Caps" were engaged in a strict routine of physical training and "skull sessions" at the blackboard, diagraming various offenses and defenses they would run during the 1962 season.

Cheerleaders Seek And Find Spirit In Students

Columbus High's cheerleaders are selected by the student body for their outstanding ability to communicate with people. This year the cheerleaders have done a marvelous job in keeping the school spirit boosted. These students come from all phases of CHS life. They may be recognized as government leaders, scholars, or just hard workers.

J. V. And "B" Squad Prepare For Varsity Of '64-'65

Under the direction of Coach Bill Evans, the Columbia High basketball team progressed from a most last place finish to a position of importance near the top of the league.

This year's team is the best record CHS basketball team has had in many years. The '63 Caps won 3 and lost 10. The "Caps" opened the season with a bang by beating the Oberlin "Indians" by a score of 54 to 43. Next the Caps faced Airport High by a score of 56 to 39. The next CHS victory came against unranked A. C. Era. The score of this game was 31 to 41. The Caps ended the season with a pair of thrillers. They defeated the Avon in 44 to 43 and the Grange team was beaten by a score of 55 to 54.

Baseball Track Require Good Physical Condition

Under the direction of Mr. E. T. Borders, the boys going out to track camp are given a complete physical examination. The team selected for the All-American meeting during the July 4th week will be strong and in excellent physical condition.

Baseball, the All-American game, tests its players' coordination and endurance more thoroughly than any other sport. It requires strength and endurance, especially the running at one-third of a mile. To one who has made out to get into shape, it is nothing but child's play.

highest award given to students participating in these fifteen sports.

Gym Class Teaches Girls Good Posture

Alma S. S. students take meters of new gait in CBS. Although the school has a gymnasium, it is not used for physical education classes.

Instead, students are taught in the gymnasium by Mrs. E. L. Gandy.

Classes have been taught by Mrs. S. C. Gandy and Mrs. S. A. Gandy.

Modern Dance Class Proves Very Popular

Modern dance is a highly individualized form of exercise as well as a creative expression.

The girls take modern exercises which develop the fundamental skills of movement and rhythm.

Even though this class was started only two years ago, the girls' school gymnasium at Columbia College is the second largest in the state.

Girls Show Ability In Softball Season

SOFTBALL is just sort of the season. After the first few softball sets, the girls settled down to a steady tempo. Average teams are now in. Due to the lack of the girls' room, the girls must practice at either the University School or Alvarado High, and it is quite a task.

FEATURES

Beautiful girls are always a welcome sight and Columbia High School certainly may boast of more than its share.

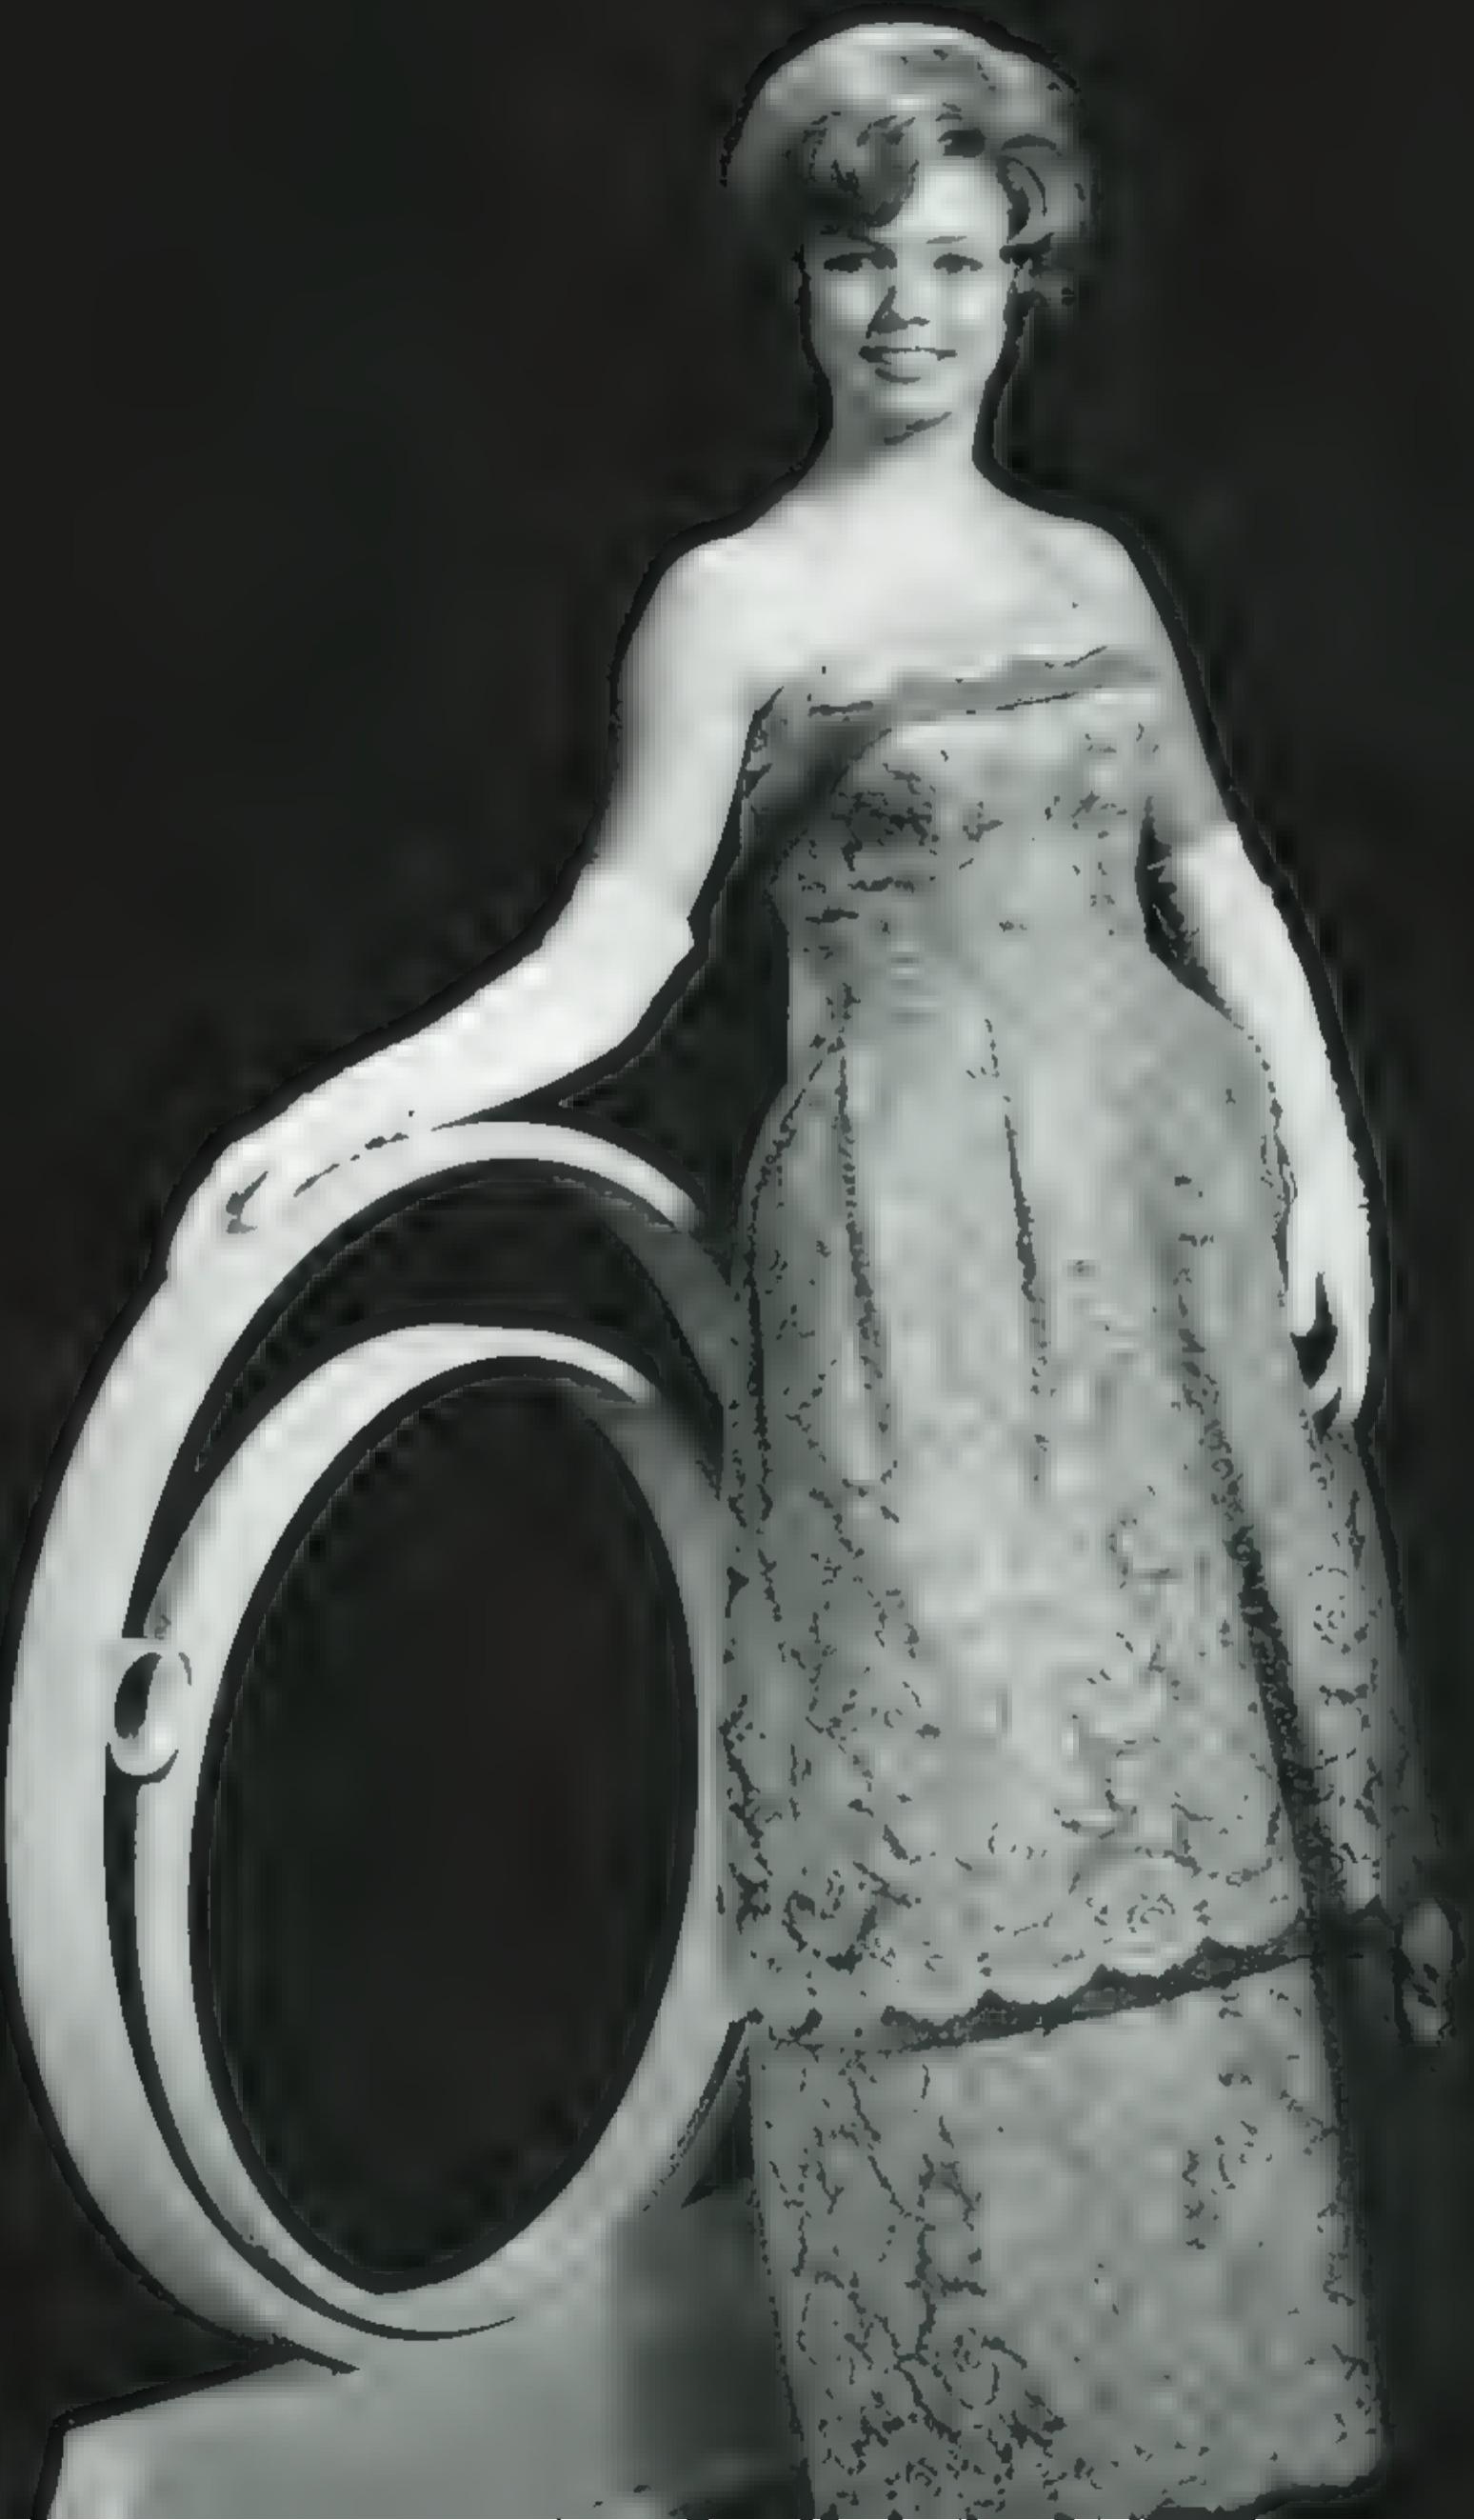

An outstanding event of the year is the beauty contest with the crowning of CHS's most beautiful girl as "Miss COLUMBIAN". "Miss Freshman", "Miss Sophomore", "Miss Junior", and "Miss Senior" are also chosen during the contest.

Miss Flame, the prettiest redhead, represents our school in the city wide Miss Flame Contest and ride in the city parade during Fire Prevention Week. For six consecutive years Columbia High beauties have held the honor of city-wide Miss Flame.

Every February the student body elects two pretty girls to represent CHS in the city-wide Valentine Queen Contest sponsored by the Memorial Youth Center.

The Feature Section of the COLUMBIAN is devoted to the Columbia High beauties who hold these titles and honors.

MISS COLUMBIAN OF 1963

Lynne Hempley

Lynne Hempley, Miss COLUMBIAN of 1963, has participated in school activities as well as taking part in many community affairs. She was choreographer for "West Side Story" and has participated in Town Theater productions, such as "South Pacific" and "Bye-Bye Birdie." She has also taken part in the work of the Lyric and Children's Theaters, and the North Carolina Symphony Ballet Company.

At present Lynne is studying dramatics under Mary Lou Kramer, plays basketball, participates in swimming meets, and works in Mr. Hicks' office.

Hold Fast These Memories

"Columbia High, Our Alma Mater," long you stood before the class of 1963 entered your halls, and long will you stand after we have scattered. "Praise to thee we sing for the grand opportunities you have offered us. "Our faith and loyalty forever, to thy portals bring." Whether we spend the rest of our lives close to you or miles away, our hearts will always remain loyal to you—"the grand old lady of Washington Street." "As in through life we make our way, our memories will not fade." Always we shall cherish every moment, joyous or sad, spent as we wandered through the long halls of learning. "All glory, honor, praise to thee, Columbia High School, hail."

Yes, hail to thee—our Alma Mater. Hail to thee for your guidance, support, and most of all, for your general concern for every one of us. Hail to thee for accepting us as a part of you and for becoming a part of us, a very important part; for you have helped to mold our lives in such a manner that perhaps each of us, as good citizens in this great nation, may in some small way make this a better world in which to live. You have taught us, among other things, self-discipline, respect for authority, and the value of friendship.

Shall we ever forget hurrying to school in the mornings to congregate with friends in the auditorium? Everyone seemed to have his own special seat. Shall we ever forget a certain personality that watched from the rear of the room, making certain that we were in those seats?

We sat in the same auditorium on Freshman Orientation Day and watched in awe as student leaders and members of the faculty told us about this strange new place. We were shown the classrooms where we were to sit and squirm during our first semester at Columbia High. We were introduced to our homeroom teachers—the ones who have stood by us, prodded us, and sometimes scolded us. Little did we know, then, that they were just a few of the many people who would become very important to us during our four high school years.

It was a warm day and we were tired; for the halls seemed endless in length and number. We were served refreshments in the gym, where later we were to spend many exciting hours yelling, "Let's go, Caps!" but this phrase was heard not only in our gym, where the steam seems to rise. You might have heard it at the city stadium any frosty Friday night in autumn. Our hearts swelled as the cheerleaders led us in "the Caps are great!"

The wind was cold the night we entered Johnson Hall for our first "Miss COLUMBIAN" contest. Each year we held our breath to see who would be chosen our class beauty.

Our first annual, our first Twirl dance, our first awards assembly, our first Installation Assembly—these seem so long in some respects, yet they seem only yesterday.

We can vividly remember watching the seniors walking down the aisle at the Township Auditorium and receiving their diplomas, as we should do in the spring of '63. Oh, they seemed so old and we, so young. Then, in the fall, as sophomores, we missed those seniors. There was a new senior class, but, somehow there was a void that could not be filled.

Then as the weeks slipped by, we forgot our friends who had left us, the freshmen became a part of us, and we fell a little more deeply in love with our "Alma Mater." We began preparations for the "Junior-Senior." We raised money for the dance by sponsoring a beatnik party and later, a laua. We had gained a little confidence, yet we admired the upperclassmen and were envious of their poise.

Books, ball games, and fads flew on. We became upperclassmen. Finally we were juniors and perhaps a little cocky, but as all phases, that soon passed. We received our class rings and enjoyed our first "Junior-Senior"—the best Columbia High has ever seen. Also, during our junior year, we were proud to have a French exchange student at Columbia High School.

Our junior year passed quietly and came to a magnificent climax and finale—Nassau. We were the first class in the history of Columbia High School to venture into foreign waters on our class trip.

In September we entered Columbia High's halls once again, but this time everything seemed different. Now everyone looked up to us—Seniors, 1963.

We were proud when retired Fire Chief A. Marsh was made an honorary graduate of Columbia High School, class of 1963.

After the first six weeks, some of us received Senior Privileges. Others of us sighed and said, "Well, maybe next time."

Suddenly everyone was busy. Study seemed even more important. Everything was going so fast. We remembered elementary school and how we thought that we would never make it to graduation. Then, as Seniors, we counted the months, the days, until graduation. Football players from our class chose sponsors for "Homecoming." We were measured for caps and gowns. We chose our motto, colors, and flower. We chose our Senior Superlatives. The girls began plans for their "Class Day" dresses. We rushed, rushed, rushed, all the while trying to hold on to every precious minute.

We had our Senior Banquet—just another reminder that our days at Columbia High were drawing to a close. We were reminiscent of our four years at dear old CHS.

We shall never forget you, Columbia High School. We shall never forget the trace of pipe smoke in the main office, pink slips, the three-fifteen bell on Friday, the squeaky step leading to the auditorium stage, fire drills on the coldest winter days, or quiet talks on the front steps when everyone else had gone home. Neither shall we forget Mrs. Richardson, our sponsor, the canteen, which was started in our senior year, our favorite teacher, or the turmoil of preparing for exams. We shall hold fast our memories of lunch period conversation, class meetings, our dance after the Senior Banquet, electing class officers. Most, of all, though, ever in our hearts will live our memories of our friends and classmates of the class of 1963.
